The Archdiocese of Gandhinagar was established on 22nd December 2002. The immediate need of the new Archdiocese was to establish a Social Work Society and office. Fr. Harold Pinto was appointed Social Work Director with the office – center on the premises of the parish House at sector- 8, Gandhinagar. The Director prepared the Memorandum of Association and Constitution of the Sabarmati Samruddhi Seva Sangh, that were approved by the Archdiocese and registered with the Charity Commissioner as a TRUST. Programs and projects were planned and approved. Funds were received and execution followed up at the grassroots.

Fr Victor Pais was the second Director and continued the programs. Over the past twelve years, much has been done involving the village communities for improved agricultural methods. Community based resource management, sustainable development were key concepts in establishing self-dependent communities. Conservation of water, self-help groups, Community health project are opening the way to the registration of Cooperatives Societies.

The time has come to tap the local resources of government agencies, especially in the new field of solar energy. I congratulate the present Director, Fr. Salvadore Fernandes, for moving in this direction. The just initiated " Childline 1098 Programme" to protect the rights of children is very supportive of the educational programme in the Archdiocese. The present report encapsulates all these programmes and the future vision of the organization.

I pray that Sabarmati Samruddhi Seva Sangh continue its onward march towards sustainable resource management and the integral development of the human persons, especially those at the margins of the society, bringing them 'life in its fullness" (Jn.10:10).

Devotedly in Christ Jesus,

From The Director's Desk...

From July 2003, more than twelve years now, Sabarmati Samruddhi Seva Sangh (SSSS), the social development wing of Archdiocese of Gandhinagar, has imprinted a deep impression in the hidden hopes and aspirations of people who have experienced a "new heaven and new earth".

The dedicated and committed services of SSSS have enabled the Community Based Organizations such as Self Help Groups (SHG), Village Development Committees (VDC) and Water User Groups (WUG) to be strengthened and to nurture their leadership and organization. The engagements of SSSS on issues of self governance and drought management have demonstrated that leadership of CBOs can lead to sustainable and equitable village development. These efforts have brought in a visible paradigm shift in the communities' way of thinking from silent recipient to being empowered change agents who demand and enjoy rights and entitlements. The CBOs also accepts that the animators and members are accountable to one another.

We believe that our programmes have helped ordinary people become "architects of development". Our teams have consciously taken innovative ideas to transform the lives of the people especially women by elevating their status from SHGs to the level of forming "Women Cooperatives". Within a year, four Women's Cooperatives were registered & strengthened. Other partner associations are slowly picking up the pace of the project "Sangath". When on all these cooperatives will be brought together, there will be a "Cooperative Bank" that is the goal of "Sangath".

Mindful of the ever growing exploitation of human rights especially on our growing children, SSSS has joined hands with the Union Ministry of Women & Child Development, under Integrated Child Protection Scheme to support children in need & protection through " Childline 1098" service. The Annual Report 2014-15 of Sabarmati SSSS gives a bird's eye view of the numerous socio-economic development interventions which eventually projects SSSS as a pro-poor, value based and socially committed development organization.

I take this opportunity to extend my heartfelt thanks to Most. Rev. Stanislaus Fernandes sj, President of SSSS, who has guided & nurtured every bit of growth of SSSS. I also thank all the Board of Trustees for being great source of inspiration for achieving the objectives of the Trust. I express my sincere gratitude to all social work centre partners, Fathers and Sisters, all stakeholders, entire team of SSSS family whose support has enabled us to work zealously for the last and least of the society.

Trusting in the ever flowing power of God and with the generous support of you all, we look forward to the upcoming year 2015-16 with greater hopes, new aspirations and new challenges for the development engagements. While our minds and hearts rest in the Lord, may our actions flow for those whom He has entrusted us.

Achievements of "SAFE MOTHERHOOD HEALTHY CHILDHOOD"

The intervention of SSSS in Safe Motherhood Healthy Childhood project has made us realize remarkable progressive growth of change in the mindset of the people who are under our care and the results achieved. However, these results could be interpreted in terms of the status of implementation of the planned activities; the quality of progression, process and mechanisms adopted; VHWs commending enthusiasm; staff capacity and measures adopted in the project for ensuring RCH indicators & access to the government services on health and the active participation of these communities in the project. The achievements gained are far more heartening than initial stages of the project.

We are happy to articulate that through this project, we could interact with different groups of people though some of which are of cyclical in nature such as pregnant mothers, lactating mothers, mother-in-laws, youth and village Health Committee in every village of the project area. Our working presence has educated them on various kinds of health issues that invoke their realization of participation for progression of their very own self and village development.

- ◆ 15 Village Health Workers of Patan and Mehsana are fully trained
- ◆ VHCs have worked as pressure groups in the villages & have resolved health issues and village issues like cleanliness, mid day meal, drainage system in the village, RCC roads, chlorination of drinking water tank etc.
- ◆ 56 people availed Rs. 5000 from Govt. Health Schemes.
- ◆ 2513 patients of 42 villages are treated in the STI/RTI camps, immunization camps, gynec camps & pediatric camps
- ◆ 130 VHC members, 90 village people & 15 VHWs visited PHC, CHC & Civil Hospital.
- ◆ Antenatal check up has become 100% in 2014 compared to 91% in 2012.
- ◆ Home deliveries of children have completely stopped and the deliveries are done either in PHC or in other private available health units.
- ◆ IFA tablets by pregnant women was only 88.2% in 2012 and it has become 100% in 2014.
- ◆ IMR is reduced by 50% from the existing rate in 13 villages of Patan and Mehsana.
- ◆ As a result of awareness created among women (mothers) on the importance of immunization, rate of immunization has increased from 81.05% in 2012 to 92.07% in 2014.
- ◆ Mothers have changed their pattern of behavior in giving supplementary food for the children after six months. It was 78.05% and it has gone up to 92.07% in 2014.

Joy of New Life

On 9th January 2015, Pediatric Camp was conducted at Mandali centre in Mehsana District. Pathan Salehabanu Jakhirkhan, 14 years old, staying at Pathanvas, Mandali had come for medicine. One of our Village Health Worker happened to witness a boil, some kind of a knot on her neck. She immediately presented her case to the Dr. Jay Patel who had accepted to be present for this camp. After examining the concerned boil on the girl's neck, doctor asked the girl's mother if there had been any case of Tuberculosis in their family. The mother responded in negative. The doctor in a soft manner suggested her mother to show her daughter at the Civil Hospital, Mehsana.

On 19th January 2015, mother came to VHW with an address of a private laboratory named Ravi Pathology Diagnostic Centre, Mehsana asking her to accompany them. Concerned about the girl's health, VHW went with them to the said hospital. When she had a blood test, the report was found to be positive. The girl was indeed suffering from Tuberculosis. As soon as her case was diagnosed, VHW made a headway to the Lions General Hospital, Mehsana for further treatment else they would end up in spending more money.

Next day, on 20th January 2015, Dr. Sandeep S. Chaudhary put Salehabanu on medications for 10 days. As a follow up case, again on 31st January 2015, VHW went with them to the same doctor for further medicinal course. Salehabanu was examined to be in category 1 of TB treatment. It was a matter of small gesture from VHW to shift the case from the private hospital to the government hospital and avail the facility of free medication.

Living for Others

This story belongs to a village named Masali of Radhanpur Taluka of Patan District. There are eight faliyas/areas in this village. There is a prominent lake in this village where people use it for their daily purpose. They use it from washing their clothes to clean their animals. Gradually they reduced the usage of cleaning clothes but the animals would still drink water from it. Water used at their household didn't have a proper drainage system. Hence this water logging was directed through a pipe system into the lake. Eventually people started dumping other things as well into this drainage that made the lake accumulate more dirt than before. One way the issue of dirty water was resolved but it aggravated another hazard. This lake happened to be very close to the Thakors' faliyu/area. The smell of the dirty water was so powerful that this community felt humiliated as they couldn't even stay in their own homes.

Under the able guidance of Sabarmati Samruddhi Seva Sangh Gandhinagar, during the Safe Motherhood Healthy Childhood project, it had formed a Village Health Committee consisting of 12 members. Regularly, once in a month they would come together to discuss their village related problems and would understand ways & means to get the issues resolved. On 22nd July 2014, this VHC members got together to discuss the problem of this lake being polluted, and they came to a conclusion that they will write an application to the Sarpanch (head of the village) to end this menace. They gave an application to the Sarpanch in the following month and soon the action was taken in directing this sewage waters to its proper location and stopping the sewage water from polluting this lake.

Though the work is completed through the support of the VHC, water of the lake is still need to be purified. Therefore VHC decided to let the lake dry at first instant and then as the new monsoon begins to get it filled with clean waters. Meanwhile they would put medicine into the lake to make it mosquito free. As they begin their course of action, Takor community could breathe fresh air and could stay in their own homes. Surroundings are cleaned and they are alert not to allow any dirt to flow in from any corners. With the help from VHC people themselves monitor the surroundings of the lake.

Green vegetables from green house

Two of the cooperative members – Mani Ben and Leela Ben at Meghraj managed to gather courage to have their own green- house worth Rs. 30,000/- each. Both of them went to the KrishiVigyan Kendra and requested officials for technical assistance and financial assistance, however, the officials said yes for setting up the green house but not the financial part. After Maniben inspecting vegetables in her green- house receiving answers from KVK they were had mixed feeling, but then they decided to go for it. They took loans from cooperative society and purchased the green house and KVK helped them to set up. Leelaben in her green house Both these project participants started seasonal vegetable cultivation from the year one. During the year they have three crops, each season they earn Rs. 10,000/- to 8,000/- profit. Vegetables cultivated are sold in the villages and in the market. Within two years they repaid their loan and season by season they increase the variety of vegetables in their green house and intend to expand the green house in the near future, they said.

Indigenous technology to beat the heat

As the temperature sores up to 45 to 48 degree Celsius during summer season in Gujarat. Most of rural populations do not have the luxury of having cold water from refrigerator. This year the cooperative members of Meghraj brought out an innovative idea to make water cool during the summer season. The 7 members of the cooperatives prepared low cost (Rs. 50/- per unit) a pot –holder, which can be hanged on the open area of the house or in trees nearby. The members hanged the pot holder, with water filled in the mud pot and served whoever past through or came as guest every day. This continued for a week. One week was enough for the advertisement. The demand started pouting in the second week. They sold 7 hundred units during the summer season.
